

Australian Bladder Cancer Support Groups

- ▶ Have you, or someone close to you, recently been diagnosed with bladder cancer?
- ▶ Are you currently receiving treatment for bladder cancer?
- ▶ Have you finished bladder cancer treatment and feel that your life has a 'new normal' ?
- ▶ Would you like to connect with other bladder cancer patients/carers?

About the group

These Bladder Cancer Support Groups are a safe space, where both men and women diagnosed with bladder cancer and their carers/families can come together regularly to share their feelings and experiences.

We regularly invite professional guest speakers to talk on topics related to bladder cancer, such as treatment options, robotic surgery, stoma care, chemotherapy, immunotherapy, diet and exercise.

There is also the opportunity for open group discussion with other patients and carers about cancer related issues in a safe and supportive environment.

Who will be running the group?

The group is co-facilitated by a urologist and a community member who has had personal experience with bladder cancer.

These bladder cancer support groups are an initiative of the BEAT Bladder Cancer Australia charity – www.beatbladdercanceraustralia.org.au

BEAT is a patient-driven, Australian bladder cancer charity. Part of BEAT's mission is to provide support to the Bladder Cancer Community. The facilitators of this support group are part of the BEAT team.

BEAT is working on this initiative in collaboration with Cancer Council Australia.
